Final Exam stuff

- ▶ The final exam is from 7-10 PM., Saturday, Dec. 15, 2018.

Conflict Exam?

If you have another final exam at the same time as this course's exam, you need to submit a request for the conflict exam, using the form given on the course website.

I will determine whether I have the responsibility to give you an alternate time and place for the exam, or whether the other instructor has that responsibility.

The deadline for this request is December 5, 2018.

University Policy about conflict exams

Please note that the university policy about conflict exams amounts to:

- ▶ If one of the classes involved in the conflict has a scheduled conflict exam (ours does not), you should take that exam.
- ▶ If one of the classes involved is giving the final exam at a time different from their designated final exam slot, that class has to accommodate any conflict requests.
- ▶ If one of the finals involved is a “combined” final exam (ours is a “noncombined” exam), that class has to provide conflict exams.

This is in Article 3, Part 2, of the student code at <http://studentcode.illinois.edu>

Final Exam material

- ▶ Most of the exam will be identical or nearly identical to problems in the homeworks, reading quizzes, and midterm exams, or problems that we solved in the lecture.
- ▶ The best thing you can do is to come to office hours to understand why you got points off your midterms, reading quizzes, and homeworks; this is particularly important for questions where you were asked to do a proof. If you missed points on a proof and you aren't sure what you did wrong, come to office hours.
- ▶ The Lecture B course staff should be also able to answer questions for everything covered in this class.
